Katja Perrey
MFA, Hort | managing director of KP Landscapes

Mrs. Perrey received both a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Photography and a Masters in Fine Arts from the California Institute of the Arts, Valencia/USA. While receiving a horticulture degree from UCLA/Los Angeles and earning a ‘Master Gardener’ certificate from UC Davis.

Mrs. Perrey has extensive experience in sustainable landscape installation and organic garden maintenance; working as a crew-member, foreman and then taking care as division supervisor for a number of high-end landscape maintenance companies of a total of 150 exclusive gardens. Prior to starting her own company, Mrs. Perrey honed her design skills at several prominent landscape design firms, including Jay Griffith Landscape, the well-known design firm that designed gardens for celebrities including Arnold Schwarzenegger and Brad Pitt.

Besides winning multiple grants for public garden design projects in the Los Angeles basin, Mrs. Perrey served as the Director of an award-winning city-wide school gardening program as part of the City of Santa Monica’s Sustainable Programs Division.

Mrs. Perrey lectures extensively on sustainable landscape design at Universities, Plant Societies and as part of the Romania Green Building Council’s ‘Romanian Green Building Professional’ Certificate, a training platform for building professionals. She is also a visiting professor at the National University of Arts, Bucharest, where she conducts workshops on ‘Creativity’.
