

Today, construction has a very negative impact on the planet. You can help improve the quality of Romania's buildings and cities.

Students can join a leading environmental business association as an “Associate Member”

Who are we?

The Romania Green Building Council is a non-profit, non-political association of businesses dedicated toward transforming Romania's construction and related industries to be both environmentally responsible while providing economic opportunity. We are conducting and planning activities such as training workshops, networking for green construction buyers and solution providers, awareness building through conferences and “green cafes”, support of pilot projects and academic programs, and performing actionable research. We are also very active in analyzing and encouraging legislation and financial incentives to promote energy efficiency and reward environmental responsibility within the construction industry.

Why should you join RoGBC?

- The opportunity to attend for FREE all the trainings on the “Romania Green Building Professional” training platform – a series of 10 full day and half day courses resulting in a professional certification.
